Turkeys From 35 to 40 Cents.

Thirty-five cents per pound was being asked in towns hereabouts for turkeys (live weight) Thursday. Dressed Thanksgiving birds will not be less than 40 cents a pound and may bring 45 cents. Poultry raisers are selling 35 and 35 cents a pound for chickens, dressed. Scores of families will depart this year from the time-honored custom of having turkey on Thanksgiving day.

Will Provide Christmas Dinners.

As has been the custom for years past, the Danielson Benevolent society will raise a fund to buy Christmas dinners for the poor of Danielson. Notwithstanding the prosperity that has come to many hereabouts, there are persons and families who will have to be assisted if they are to know anything of Christmas cheer. Prosperity's golden stream does not restore youth and vigor to aged and weakened people, who are no longer able to avail themselves of the opportunities to earn a comfortable living, and there are such persons being taken in Danielson. It is of these that the generosity will think when the appeal for funds is made.

Ward-Marior Engagement.

In the society sections of New York papers published last week, was the approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Stinton Ward of New York, and Mr. S. Marior, of the city. The engagement was recently announced, but no date has been set for the wedding. It is said, Miss Ward is the daughter of the late Henry Ward Marior, Mr. Marior the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marior, Hartford formerly of Brooklyn.

Miss Ward is one of last season's debutantes and is a descendant of the first Cornelius Vanderbilt on her mother's side. Mr. Marior is a graduate of Trinity college and has many friends in this section of the state.

Rain Welcomed.

With cool prices dried aeronauts stunts, manufacturers whose plants are dependent on water power welcomed the rain of Thursday. The water power business has been below normal and streams that are used for the development of power are considerably below their normal levels for this time of the year.

Coroner Delays Gilman Finding.

Coroner Arthur G. Bill continues to investigate circumstances surrounding and incidents pertaining to the Gilman shooting, but so far no finding has been made. Mr. Bill said Thursday that there are other matters which he desires to investigate before his finding is completed and released.

Gilman, at the jail in Brooklyn, remains a model prisoner. The routine of his life there has been very normal day to day and develops nothing of special interest. Constantly he is kept under special guard.

GREAT INCREASE IN PRICE OF PRINT PAPER

To Be Further Probed to See if a Combination Controls the Price.

Washington, Nov. 23.—A date for further hearings in the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of the advance in news print paper prices was discussed today by members of the commission and officers of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Afterward it was said a time would be set for the hearings within a few days.

Neither members of the commission nor the publishers would discuss the line the new hearings will take, but it is understood that paper manufacturers as well as the publishers will be heard and that further efforts will be made to determine if there has been a combination to control prices. Since the conclusion of hearings early in August the commission's investigators have been working on the paper mills and it is understood will present new facts.

Publishers charged at the previous hearings that paper makers had combined to raise prices and promised to place in the hands of the commission evidence to support their charges. Paper makers declare high prices are due to an enormous increase in demand and insist that the manufacturers are not making a fair return on their investment. They estimate that consumption has increased 20 per cent. in a year and assert that manufacturing costs have advanced.

Those who conferred with the commission today were Frank P. Glass, vice president of the Publishers' association; L. B. Palmer of New York, secretary; and A. G. McIntyre of New York, a paper expert employed by the association as advisor. Mr. McIntyre is said to be of the opinion that new mills must be built before the situation is remedied.

Three Newspapers Advance in Price.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 23.—Announcement was made today by three local daily newspapers that their price would be increased to 2 cents on December 1, owing to the high cost of print paper. The newspapers are the Tribune, the Leader and the Democrat.

TO INSIST UPON FULL RETURNS IN CALIFORNIA

Before Certificates Will Be Given Presidential Electors.

Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 23.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan reiterated today his determination to insist upon full returns from all precincts of the state before certifying to the vote for presidential electors from California.

He declared the sealed envelopes in the precincts in question could be opened and the necessary count made in a few hours without the aid of judges, make such an order. Chairmen of the committees on both sides said there would be no difficulty in rectifying the inaccuracies.

Returns have been received at the capital from all counties in the state except San Francisco, San Diego and Alameda.

RAISING OF MORE SHEEP TO OFFSET SHORTAGE

Urged at Opening Session of National Sheep Conference.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The raising of more sheep to offset the wool shortage in the United States caused by decreased production and lessening of imports because of the war, was urged at the opening session here today of the National Sheep Conference.

Sheep breeders from states east of the Mississippi river, representatives of state departments of agriculture, agricultural colleges, railroad companies, clothing manufacturers and textile industrial organizations are attending the sessions.

During all this time the monarch continued to work, rising from 10 to 12 hours a day and hearing the usual reports. Then there set in a gradual but continual rise in temperature, reported in the recent bulletins with the heart action, respiration and pulse good, however, and the appetite normal.

Tired and Distracted.

On the night of Monday, the emperor was much troubled by a dry, hacking cough, resting badly as a result. When he left his bed at 3 o'clock in the morning he had the appearance of a person very tired and distracted. Doctors Kergel and Ortner were immediately summoned and found an increase in temperature, which they associated with the restlessness of the night. Although the monarch was a light attack of pneumonia had developed, as had happened in 1914, it was found that the lung area affected had not opened, and again gave room for hope that the emperor would conquer his malady.

Failed Rapidly.

Shortly after rising, the emperor began to feel rapidly, however, complaining of weakness, and instead of his usual hearty breakfast taking but a little milk and a slice of toast. He took luncheon the alarm was great. The monarch complained of chills and an examination showed a rapid increase in temperature.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the emperor's physical condition had become very bad. He was unable to leave his armchair, struggling with a severe dry cough which at times was accompanied by difficulty in breathing. At 3 o'clock the heart began to show signs of weakness.

Charlestown, W. Va., Nov. 23.—A sensation was caused in the house of delegates of the West Virginia legislature here late today when Delegate J. L. Wolf introduced a resolution asking for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charge that "large sums of money and certain places of employment have been offered to members of the house in connection with the incoming administration for the purpose of influencing their votes upon certain measures."

The committee was appointed.

TELEGRAPH OPERATOR IS ACQUITTED ON TECHNICALITY

Was Accused of Revealing the Contents of Press Despatches.

New York, Nov. 23.—Henry L. Linder, a former Postal Telegraph operator, was acquitted today in general sessions by direction of Judge Wadsworth, of a charge upon which he was indicted in 1914, of revealing the contents of a telegraphic despatch. Linder was arrested in the office of The Globe, a New York evening newspaper, when he was assigned by the Postal Telegraph company to handle a private wire. He was accused of having "listened in" on a news despatch from The Associated Press and it was contended that he immediately transmitted this despatch over a private wire to the office of The New York News Bureau.

In ordering Linder's acquittal, Judge Wadsworth explained to the jury that the section of the penal law under which he was indicted had not been in force at the time of the alleged offense. The Globe, one of The Associated Press, nor in the confidence of either, and therefore was not amenable to the section under which he had been indicted.

So Faint That It Was Discovered Only by Photography.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 23.—The discovery of a new comet by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf of Winchester was announced by the Harvard College Observatory today. The minister-observer now has the discovery of four new planets to his credit, a record equalled by few, it was said.

In its official report of the discovery, the Harvard Observatory states it was made on "November 21.5673, Greenwich mean time, right ascension 2 hours 38 minutes, 56 seconds; declination plus 18 degrees, 22 minutes, 50 seconds."

The daily motion was stated as 14.5 minutes of time, west, 35.4 minutes arc, south.
